Maple Classroom Service Project

The Maple classroom is partnering with arrow's heart rescue for our first community service project. They will be making posters of adoptable pets to have hung up at local businesses along with having a drive for the shelter for things like canned pet food, dry pet food, toys, blankets, treats. Look for more information to come on the amazing work these students are doing in service of others.

Upcoming Dates

Montessori Minute

The Montessori elementary cosmic curriculum centers around a series of lessons that offer students keys to understanding the universe. The third lesson is one of the simplest of the cosmic lessons to present but the message it gives is moving and inspiring to students and educators. The third great lesson considers the beginning of human existence on our planet. Rather than focusing on a particular understanding of human creation, it emphasizes universal truths of the human experience; that we are unique in our experience on planet earth because of the size of our brains and the intelligence they give us, the dexterity and multitude of ways we can use our hands, and how love is central to the human experience. With these three uniquely human characteristics, humankind has explored, created, and dreamed in tremendous ways. Montessori students take this lesson and explore the rich history of humans and how we have existed and impacted earth.
