E1 News

The Cedar and Maple classrooms read a book this week on Mill City museum called "My Mighty Journey" in preparation for their field trip. They also spent a big chunk of their time this week practicing for our upcoming MAP tests. Students have done practice tests in small groups together, and also independently did math/reading practice in areas they feel they need to work on! The hope is that this will help with any test anxiety and allow for more practice with the computers they will use during the test.

E2 News

On Thursday, the E2 students learned about coding on their STEM Mission Mars project. The students had fun creating a code, writing a code, and testing the code with their peers. The testing of code ended up being a fun aerobic activity that was a great use of energy on an inside recess day.

Winter Gear

Please be sure you are sending winter gear with your children as we do go out for recess most days. The only time we won't go out is if the temperature is below zero degrees, including with windchill. Hats, gloves/mittens, coats and boots are needed for recess. Snow pants are also highly recommended. Thank you for helping to ensure your children are ready for play outside during our cold winter months.
